EDITORIAL.

I may well be tempting providence again, but it looks as if a change of Government - for better or for worse, has at least succeeded in bringing about a change in the weather - all beit an uncertain one. Jenny and her family are at present on holiday in Ireland, so she has entrusted me and my pen to the first page of our magazine again.

On Tuesday 22nd May, on the Management Committee's behalf and in Jenny's absence, I had the pleasure of being a guest of the Cambridge Evening News at the presentation of the prizes in the local Village/Parish Magazine competition. We were the runners up in the contest to Cyril Rawlinson's team's production - Swaffham Crier, and came home with a cheque for £12 - more about this visit next month.

It should be pointed out that our Magazine had some stiff opposition and it must reflect the standards of editorship and presentation that Jenny and her team have deemed to establish over the past months - "Didn't we do well!"

The Reach Fair has again come and gone - despite its move and the poor Spring weather a good crowd turned up to join the traditional celebrations. Talking to Ernie Cole and others about Fairs in the past, many newcomers, like myself, will be very surprised to hear tales and see photo's of the Fair as it used to be - not that many years ago- with the top half of the green packed with a true range of Fairground Stalls and rides and horses tied to trees and stakes all along the Burwell Road - someone will have to collate these tales for prosperity - filed in "Out of Reach" - Offers anybody?

VILLAGE CENTRE NEWS.

To improve the outward appearance of the Centre we have had the wall rebuilt. This repair was overdue, but now that it is complete we must ensure that it is not abused by anyone, as it does provide a convenient seat.

The lawn too, has been turfed by John Reed, putting the finishing touch in time for the Fair.

The waste paper collection on 13th May, with some topping up from the store in the yard, raised nearly £20 towards the Centres Funds so it is still worthwhile to save your paper.

REACH FAIR.

It looked on the morning of Reach Fair opening that the weather would beat us, but the drizzle did not seem to dampen too many spirits (the beer tent was always full)! and everything appeared to go according to plan.

Anita has been away on holiday so the finances have yet to be finalised, though it does look as though we have had another successful Fair week.

Some feel that it was wrong to change the date of the official opening of the Fair to the May Bank Holiday - the first M_{O} nday in May. The majority of people however think that the Fair needed revitalising and the opening should be Traditional with more than a handful of villagers attending; hopefully by moving the Fair, and thus allowing more people to come, this Tradition will not die out

To list all those who worked hard in the organisation of the events would take a couple of pages. Those who assisted us with a new idea - car parking, Mike Warrington, John Wood, Derek Badcock and his crew, and Bill Pedley and Graham for keeping the gateway open despite a muddy approach run, need a mention. Mrs. Booton and the Maypole Dancers kept up part of the traditional celebrations, though the ground underfoot must have been quite treacherous to dance on - well done boys and girls. The Morris Dancers too, added to the spectacle and I'm sure we are always pleased to welcome them to the village.

Reach Fair Contd.

Burwell Band, because of the rain, played in the Church, and drew quite an audience. Kinder weather next year may allow all of us the full benefit of their talents outside.

The Horse Sales ended up being a solitary pony sale which did not reach its reserve so went home unsold.

Quite a great deal of Tack was sold, much to the efforts of our Auctioneer, Mr. Tony Mullocks. Many people do not realise that Tony gives up his free time to come and act for us at the Reach Fair without drawing any expenses. He travels from Saffron Walden and does most of the complex paperwork before and after the Sale, as well as coaxing people to part with their money. May I take this opportunity to thank Tony on behalf of the organising committee for his unfailing help for which we are most endebted.

Other events arranged during the Fair Week again proved most successfull - the addition of a marquee to the rear of the Village Centre allowed for more use to be made of the Hall facilities. The Darts Match under Jeremy Patterson's supervision was a little less crowded and everybody enjoyed "Abliene's" performance at the Country and Western Evening, the increase in space making dancing easier the food was good too!!

I will take this opportunity to thank Sam and Heather Mitchell for their unfailing help over the past years in organising the now traditional Dog Show. They are leaving the village soon to go and live at Freckenham. Let's wish them well, hope that we will see them again and that they'll be able to help us with the outline organisation of a now most popular event.

It was also most pleasing to see the flotilla of assorted craft joining us from the Clayhithe Boat Club - in these days when we are in danger of possibly losing our Lodes, it is good to see them used, indicating that there is a need to keep these historic waterways navigable.

So to all those who orgainsed, helped with, made sandwiches and teas, cooked and prepared food, parked cars, supervised and attended with seemingly undying commitment - Thank You.

FROM THE VICAR.

May I simply repeat the remarks I made at the recent Annual General Meeting of the P.C.C.

Ladies and Gentlemen,

State of the Union speeches are generally a weariness to the flesh, so I will make this one as short as possible, within the limits of decency.

I said recently, in the Swaffham Crier, or am about to say, I can't recall which that one of the purposes of the A.G.M. was to try to pin point where we are and where we are making for. As to where we are, no merely human mind can do more than guess, so deep is the human heart, and deeper still when surveyed in community. But if I am allowed to express the intuitions which come to me, I would say we are in the throes of witnessing and participating in that most absorbing process, - the only thing in the World and the church worth struggling and praying for, -namely the birth of something resembling a common life in the body and mind of Christ. The longer one lives the more acutely one senses the passion that breathes through those words of the Psalm: 'behold, how good and joyful a thing it is, brethen, to dwell together in unity! . A parish may be as active and successful as you wish, but without this at its heart, all that activity is hardly more than vanity and a striving after wind. Indeed, you might go so far as to say that agreement, common sharing, in the mind of Christ is as near as any single identifiable thing can ever be to the presence of the Kingdom of God among us.

It's a mysterious, elusive, thing, and comes about in mysterious way: worship; mutual intercession; mutual awareness and neighbourliness, and so on. Most of these are hidden, and rightly hidden, known to God only. But there is one element in the process which in our case if half identifiable, and that, I would say, is the currency of the Swaffham Crier amongst us, revealing us to each other as it hasn't been possible before; and here I want to repeat the tribute I paid last year to the Editor and his Committee for what they continue to do to make this possible.

As to the future: well, I would say simply, progress, if the Spirit is allowed to perform it, along the same lines, and in the same direction, remembering that one of the deepest mysteries of

From the Vicar contd....

The Christian common life is that there is no limit to the depth at which we may taste this thing the Psalmist calls unity. That is why Heaven can never be remotely boring. And as we've seen this last year or so, unity of this sort involves that creative tension once described as 'having the same mind', i.e. the mind of Christ, 'without necessarily being of the same opinion'.

As for the immediate future, i.e. the tenth Centenary, I have tried to say something about this both in the recent News Letter and in the May issue of the magazine, so I won't repeat myself. I only hope it will prove an invigorating as well as a happy experience. (I hope too, that the screen will actually be in place for the Bishop to Bless on June 3rd)

The Department of the Environment has refused a grant for our original scheme for the restoration of the Porch, and suggested a modified scheme instead. Both the architect and the Diocesan Advisory Committee are disatisfied with this judgement, and the matter comes up again for discussion in a few days time.

May I end, then, with grateful thanks to those who have collaborated in 'maintaining the state of the World', as scripture says, and made it possible, humanly speaking, to keep our Parish Churches going for one more year.

SHIRE HALL TITBITS.

Some readers may have heard that there has been a re-shuffle of senior posts at Shire Hall, and when this was being planned it was thought by some members - and I didn't disagree - that a change for me might be appropriate. I am a bit of a hard-liner on Finance my responsibility for the last two years, and this doesn't go A change has been agreed, and I very down well with everyone. much look forward to working in the new Education team, as this has always been my prime interest in County Coumcil activities. Councillor Adrian Cumber from the Peterborough area is the new Chairman of Finance, and I have the fullest confidence in his ability to cope with what is undoubtedly a bed of nails. all those, either locally or from farther afield, who have supported me during the tough times we have experienced at Shire Hall.

With a new Government taking over at Westminster, I honestly believe that there is some hope that the Shire Counties will receive more just treatment in future Rate Support Grant settlements. However, the same old competition for funds that has always existed between Urban and Rural interests will continue and, perhaps for different reasons, there must still be a danger that Cambridgeshire continues to lose out in the national handout. I hope that everyone will support, perhaps through our Member of Parliament, requests that might be made by the County Council for a fair cut of what could be a more modest national cake.

Shire Hall Titbits still sounds a little sombre - I'm sorry! As I write this piece, Summer has really arrived, and my spirits are much higher than for many years. I hope that all readers of Out of Reach feel the same!

AN OUTDOOR GAME FOR THE SUMMER WEATHER.

FIVE STONES (or 'Jinx' or 'Jacks')

Five small stones and a small ball are needed for this game. It is easiest to play on a step or sitting on the ground.

Throw the ball a little way into the air, and immediately throw the stones up gently. Catch as many stones as you can on the back of your hand, then catch the ball, having allowed it to bounce once. As the ball is thrown and allowed to bounce again, pick up any stone which you have dropped; do this until you have picked up all the stones. The final throw is when you toss the stones from the back of your hand into the air, and catch all those before the ball has bounced more than once, catching the ball last of all. There are many variations of this game. Some people start by tipping all the stones except one from the back of the hand, then start again with two on the hand, then three and so on, but it is difficult to catch all of them at once in that way.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

CAMBRIDGESHIRE CONSERVATIVE & UNIONIST ASSOCIATION REACH BRANCH.

> Delver House, 16 Great Lane, Reach. CAMBRIDGE CB5 OJG.

The Editor "Out of Reach"

8th May 1979.

Dear Madam,

We wish to state categorically that the article in your May "Forum" entitled 'The Reach Survey-The Follow-Up' is in no way connected with the Reach Branch of the Conservative Association, whose intentions in running the questionnaire were clearly stated in its preamble. The questionnaire results, published in your March issue, stated no imperatives; they indicated where majority support lay in relation to many of the things for which our Parish Council has been pressing for a long time.

The items headed by your anonymous correspondent 'For Immediate Action! were things which a majority of those who sent in replies would like to see done in the future, as opportunities arise. With regard to 'Principles for Future Conduct of Affairs', a) to consult the whole village on every item before making a decision is obviously neither always possible nor desirable; our Parish Council is elected democratically and is the medium through which consultations are made. b) "Members of the Parish Council must obtain the majority view, and not just their own ...etc" - we find it hard to believe that a resident of Reach could have written this, as a member of the village would know it to be an offensive statement, the implications of which are untrue. Referring to c), d) and e) in this section, we are aware that the Parish Council achieves as much as is possible within the limits imposed by District and County Council. It was on the District and County Councils that influence was intended, as a means of support for the Parish Council's efforts on our behalf. As for the section head 'In No Way', it is surprising that such strong views were not expressed at the recent Annual General Meeting of the Parish Council, to which every resident of Reach was invited, but at which only seven were present.

We feel that the article should not have been published in this form, as it is at variance with the truth, and does an injustice to the hard working Parish Councillors, who have our whole hearted confidence. In addition, the title of the article suggests that it is in some way connected with the group which distributed the questionnaire, and we assure you that this is not the case.

Yours faithfully, George Crookenden, Chairman. Charles Moseley, Vice Chairman Janet Biggs, Secretary.

ON GROWING OLD - A PRAYER.

O Lord, thou knowest better than I know myself that I am growing older and will one day be old.

Keep me from getting talkative and particularly from the fatal habit of thinking that I must say something on every occasion and on every subject.

Keep my mind free from recital of endless details - may I have wings to get to the point.

I ask for grace to listen to tales of others pains but seal my lips on my own.

Teach me the glorious lesson that occasionally it is possible I may be mistaken.

Keep me reasonably sweet, I do not hope to be a saint but a sour old woman is the work of the Devil.

Make me thoughtful but not moody, helpful but not bossy. With my vast store of knowledge it seems a pity not to use it all, but thou knowest Lord, that I want a few friends at the end.
