Issue No 94

November 1984

The big piece of news for the village this month is that the pub is to re-open. I am sure that many of you will have noticed with interest its recent renovation, and how nice it now looks. I am pleased to welcome to the village Brenda and Bert Connor and their daughter Karen and hope that they will be happy here. They have moved to Reach from the "White Hart" at Blyton in Lincolnshire. The pub will now be called "The King's Reach". The reason for this choice is twofold. Firstly, as I expect everyone by now knows, dating back to the Charter from King John in the Middle Ages, there has always been a King of Reach. The most recent of course was King Len (Warren) whom a lot of us still remember. Predecessors of his were local quarrymen, landowners and farmers. "King's Reach" could also refer to the old port which thrived in the past. Apparently there is still a King's Reach on the Thames which used to be a royal river port. The official opening date for the pub will be Thursday November 1st, but a special pre-opening night on the Wednesday will be arranged for the village only. How fortuitous that we have a Committee Meeting that same evening, I hope that most Committee members will be persuaded to drop in afterwards!

The Connors are looking forward to meeting everyone and say that to start with they will serve drinks only, but later intend to serve food too.

Next time Les Woodland comes to Reach he won't have to travel to Burwell for the nearest pub, as he recently complained on Radio Cambridgeshire! Incidentally talking of Les Woodland, I have heard that he mentioned "Out of Reach" again last week, and once again I missed it. According to my source he said that last month's article was the best yet!

Next month we are having a combined December and January issue to give the duplicators a break. Therefore all items for inclusion for both months should reach me by 20th November. May I remind you again about our Market Stall of home produce at Newmarket on 20th November. Please let either Sue Summers or myself have your cakes, preserves etc. before that date. Other requests for items next month come from the school, who would like any craft items for the School Christmas Fair being held on 1st December. And Joyce Harrison makes her usual annual appeal for prizes for the Hospital Whist Drive on Friday 14th December. This is as always in aid of both Newmarket and Addenbrooke's Hospitals. Miss Whitehead, who runs the village Sunday School, would be grateful for any old wooden chairs which are no longer needed. The numbers have swelled recently and she needs chairs for the children to use.

Thanks go to Mr Lawrence of Commercial End who recently was kind enough to service the duplicating machine.

Two other new families to the village have moved into Burwell Road. Welcome to the Ashleys and the Browns.

Lastly don't forget our Bonfire Night celebrations on Monday 5th November. There is more about this inside.

Thank you to the Vicar for his kind words.

FROM THE VICAR

The recent arrival of Herbert and Brenda Connor, with their daughter Karen, to take over the pub in Reach, is an event of no small significance in the ongoing life of the village. The fact that they have also come here after many years in a Lincolnshire village I happen to know well gives their arrival an added interest for me personally. We welcome them, and hope they will be happy with us.

The news that Mr Connor has the added skills of a builder, and his wife a fund of good ideas for improving the pub's appearance, should lead to some pleasant surprises for us, including, we hope, the much needed provision of pub lunches for those who value this deeply enjoyable form of mid-day relaxation.

Another surprise we look forward to is the name the pub will eventually bear. One hears various suggestions bandied about, and one wonders which, if any, of these will finally be approved. There is much in a name, and we hope it will be chosen carefully and unanimously.

This word 'unanimously' is perhaps the clue to what has been rumbling through my mind on the subject. A common mind is a precious thing, especially in a village, and the local pub is one of the key places in which such a mind is generated. But the process is mysterious, so complex and mysterious as to be 'out of reach', as the title of our village magazine reminds us. Yet it is so real as to be almost tangible; - and perhaps an outsider like myself may be allowed to voice the opinion that few influences have contributed more to the forming of a common mind than that magazine, for which we offer our grateful thanks to the editor and all who help her.

Next door but one to the pub, in a roughly northern direction, is a quaint building, erected to the honour of St Etheldreda and the Holy Trinity. I mention this for two reasons; and first because it is somewhat underused, to put it mildly. (We apologise, incidentally, for the fact that it is still normally closed except for worship. A series of rather stupid intrusions have driven us to this regrettable step). There are quite a number of committed Christians in Reach, but they seem a little shy of admitting their commitment, except on the four traditional occasions of the year, Easter, Rogationtide, Harvest and Christmas. This is a pity because, to come to a second reason, another powerful influence in the creation of a common mind is the mind of Christ, worshipped week by week in the Breaking of the Bread on the altar. But there is something about that mind which is unlike any other: so deep and lovely, so broad and strong, it can transcend and hold together all mere differences of opinion, so that while differing profoundly in opinion we can still rejoice in a common mind.

J.K.B.

INDOOR CARPET BOWLING

The past month will have seen the opening matches of the season in the County League but since these occur in the latter half of the month after Out of Reach has gone to press results will be in the next issue. One piece of bad news affecting the League is that Hardwick were over optimistic in entering two teams and have now decided they have insufficient members to run two teams and their 'Y' team has accordingly been withdrawn. This robs us of two matches.

We ourselves are getting close to the point when we can run two teams - at our last meeting before going to press for this issue the attendance was 18 members plus 2 visitors. Incidentally visitors are always welcome at our Tuesday evening meetings.

Our own internal competitions are now well under way and with 5 more results in the Singles to come Bob Laws, Bob Smith and Anita Folkes are through to the second round. The Pairs competition is also well under way and winning pairs so far are Anita Folkes and Allan Irons, Martin Mead and Dick Mead, and Bob Smith and Bob Sheldrick.

PARISH COUNCIL NEWS

Concern was passed about the dumping of rubbish and food in the area between the end of the gardens at Ditchfield and "Sea Rivers" on the Swaffham Road. Vermin have been seen on the site and the smell is appalling. A letter has been sent to the Department of Environmental Health.

COUNTY COUNCILLOR'S NOTES FOR OCTOBER 1984

PARENTS AND SCHOOL GOVERNING BODIES

Recently this has been a major discussion subject among parent groups, teachers, school governors, local councils, local education authorities and national education conferences.

The reason was Sir Keith Joseph's green paper on parental involvement and the constitution of school governing bodies. The most revolutionary idea was for a built-in overall majority of parents elected by parents. There were other suggestions, some of them popular, but this one gave rise to almost unanimous opposition. There was general agreement for the need for greater parental involvement in some, but not all, schools and that this was not the way to go about it.

Some of the arguments went as follows:-

1. A very recent re-constitution of governing bodies would not come into effect until 1985. This increases parent and teacher representation and should be given a trial before yet another change.
2. Governors should be evenly representative of parents, teachers, the local education authority and the local community. No one group should have overall power.
3. Community representation would be adversely affected and would be especially harmful at community schools. For example at present the Bottisham Village College governors include a nominee of each parish and district council. The proposals allowed for only one governor to represent the Community in the entire catchment area.
4. There would be lack of continuity, especially at those schools where pupils stayed for only 2 or 3 years.

There were other criticisms, but complete agreement that insufficient time had been allowed for consultation. All in all it is unlikely that the Secretary of State for Education will have been very pleased with the reaction to his ideas.

However, government "green" papers do not always become government "white" papers. Even "white" papers do not always become law. (Perhaps it should be pointed out that a "green" paper is issued by a government department as a consultation document, while a "white" paper sets out government policy.)

County Councillor

THIS MONTH'S RECIPE

Samosas

Delicious pastry triangles filled with spiced meat and vegetables.

- 1 onion (finely chopped)
- 1 carrot
- 1 lb minced beef
- 2 tablespoons curry paste or (if curry not liked) 1 teaspoon mixed spice
- 1 teaspoon ground cumin
- $\frac{1}{4}$ - $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon ground chilli powder

- 1 - 2 cloves crushed garlic
- 2 level tablespoons tomato purée
- 1 tablespoon frozen peas (thawed)
- $\frac{1}{4}$ pint beef stock (made with $\frac{1}{2}$ stock cube)

Dough

- 8 oz wholewheat flour
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- pinch salt
- 6 tablespoons oil
- Oil for frying
- Water

Chop onion, grate carrot. Heat oil in pan and fry onion, carrot and meat until browned. Stir in curry paste (or spices), tomato purée, peas, stock and seasoning. Leave mixture to cool.

To make dough - sift flour, baking powder and salt together. Make a well in centre and gradually mix in about 8 fl oz water to make a firm dough. Knead for 5 minutes, then divide in 12. Roll out each piece to a circle, 4 inches in diameter. Cut each circle in half and brush the edges with water. Curl each semi-circle into a cone shape and pinch the edges together to seal. Spoon about 1 heaped tablespoon of the filling into the cone and seal the edges together well. Heat the oil in a deep pan and fry the Samosas, a few at a time for 3 - 4 minutes or until golden brown. Drain on kitchen paper and serve with a hot relish or chutney. If re-heating, place on a baking tray and put in hot oven. (Mark 6 - 200°C - 400°F) for about 15 minutes.
